Right to Review Participation

Destination Canada and the Tourism Industry Association of Canada (TIAC) reserve the right to review both an individual and organization's participation at Rendez-vous Canada+ and the Selection Criteria on an annual basis to ensure it is consistent with current conditions and trends. Appeals, in writing, to decisions can be made to Destination Canada who will appoint three committee members to review the decision.

The number of requested appointments and total appointments from the previous year's Rendez-vous Canada are determining factors for continued participation in Rendez-vous Canada. TIAC, Destination Canada and provincial and territorial coordinators reserve the right to establish performance thresholds as a method of managing access to participation in Rendez-vous Canada.

Buyers who schedule fewer than 40 appointments and buyers who cancel 10% or more of their appointments onsite (or no-shows, cancellations without valid reasons) may not be re-invited to participate in future Rendez-vous Canada events.

As part of the registration process, all participants must agree to adhere to the Rules of Engagement and abide by the Code of Conduct of Rendez-vous Canada.

Rules of Engagement

Participating in Rendez-vous Canada+ is your opportunity to expand your knowledge, make new connections and profit from the innovative, data-driven marketing programs offered by Destination Canada. By following our rules of engagement:
